Alpine Squeeze! to Appear in "Morning Glory" with Harrison Ford, Diane Keaton and Rachel McAdams.

June 16, 2009. Katonah, NY. Alpine Squeeze! was on the set for the upcoming Paramount movie "Morning Glory" starring Harrison Ford, Diane Keaton and Rachel McAdams. The movie is about a talented television producer who loses a promotion to her backstabbing boyfriend and returns home to Rhode Island with her life in tatters. Lured back to New York by her former network boss, she is set for the challenge of reviving a struggling morning show; a task made all the more difficult by its feuding anchors.

Band members Eric Baal, Cherie Baal, Joe Mariany, Dana Sylvander and Bob Carapezza were filmed in four scenes which take place at a sauerkraut festival in Westchester County, NY. After the shoot, Director Roger Michell said we did a great job! The movie is scheduled to be released next year on July 10, 2010.
