

ON THE ROAD WITH

Atlas Park, Glendale, Queens, NY

September 6, 2008 - For the second time Alpine Squeeze! was honored to be the opening band for dSb Die Schlauberger at Atlas Park in Glendale Queens, NY. Alpine Squeeze! performed at the Park last year and was pleased to be invited back. As the band took the stage at noon, the wind and clouds of Tropical Storm Hana began to move in. However, that didn't stop Alpine Squeeze! from performing to crowds which numbered into the hundreds. Different from last year was the stage which was erected just for the bands. Nearby, kiosks from local stores and restaurants were selling authentic German beer, bratwurst and novelties. The audience was also entertained by the German Dance Group called "d'Heimatsgruppe Schuplattlers." Just as Alpine Squeeze! finished their last song of their last set, Hana arrived and the heavens opened with heavy rains. Unfortunately, the weather did not let up so dSb Die Schlauberger were not able to perform. Nevertheless, everyone had a great time and many new friends were made. Prosit!
